7 More about Bluetooth

You can make and receive calls using the HOME and CELLULAR lines. The HOME line is your conventional telephone land line. The CELLULAR line is the communications service provided through your Bluetooth enabled cellular phone.

Before you use your Bluetooth device(s) with the telephone base, make sure that:

- Your cellular phone and/or headset devices are not connected to any other Bluetooth device(s) and the Bluetooth function is on.
- Your device is connected to the telephone base and on the Active Devices list (page 27 in the user's manual).

If you experience difficulty using your Bluetooth cellular phone:

1. Make sure that your Bluetooth cell phone is working properly. See your Bluetooth device(s) user's manual for more information.
2. Delete the AT&T EP5632 device on your cellular phone, then delete your cellular phone on the Pair devices list (page 26 in the user's manual).
3. Repeat the pairing process in Connecting your Bluetooth cellular phone in this Quick start guide.

Refer to the user's manual's Bluetooth and Troubleshooting sections for more information.

We hope you enjoy using your new AT&T product. For a list of compatible Bluetooth devices, document downloads, FAQ's, and more, visit us at www.telephones.att.com/Bluetooth.
